

Racial Healing--Inspiration

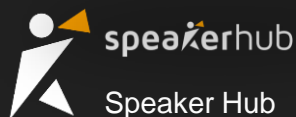

I provide communication techniques to reduce racial conflict and help people engage in constructive dialogue.

“Charles Holley is hands down one of the best speakers I have had the privilege to listen to! His ability to grab the audience’s attention from beginning to end is unmatched. His willingness to blend his personal life tragedies alone with his corporate experience makes him a must have at your next event.”

Biography

Charles L. Holley is a Race Dialogue Expert who can help your organization get past racial impasse, low employee morale, and even reputation damage from racial accusations. He provides balanced and positive race keynotes and training.

Charles helps people engage in constructive dialogue by addressing three major conflict types of (1) Philosophical: where people cannot get past ideology differences, (2) Procedural: where people cannot agree on how to address racial issues, and (3) Personal: where people have viewpoints that lead to racial conflict.

Charles’ goal for your organization is to: (1) Reduce existing racial conflict, (2) Prevent potential racial conflict, and (3) Enhance existing racial relationships.

His most popular book, Black & White: Healing Racial Divide, is taking readers by storm. Click on the book cover above to preview the book.

Charles is a husband and father who currently lives in Huntsville, Alabama, USA.
